If you're between the ages of 8 and 15, you can enter the Personna Baseball Grand Slam contest and get a chance to put one over the fence of a Major League Stadium.

Just pick up an entry blank wherever Personna razor blades are sold (You don't have to buy a thing).

Mail it in and we'll tell you what stadium to report to and when.

We'll also tell you about the free clinics where a major-league player will personally give you tips to help you prepare for the competition.

This is what you'll have to do in the contest:

1. Throw a ball.
2. Slam a ball off a batting tee.
3. Run around the bases.

You'll only be competing with kids your own age so you have a good chance of winning.
